TO CELEBRATIONCurtis Brown Announces
Formal Opening of His New Store

EVERYONE WELCOME

Orchestral Music, Flowers,
Souvenirs Will Feature Occasion

An event in the business history of Tulsa is the formal opening of the Curtis Brown company tonight. The firm is established in its new location at 309 South Main and although it has been open for business it is tonight inviting the general public to attend its "coming out party."

The constant growth and the rapid expansion of the Curtis Brown company has been characteristic of the Tulsa spirit of progress. In business here for about seven years, Curtis Brown was first a partner in the firm of Brown and Blaser, buying out his partner in 1915 and establishing the firm of Curtis Brown company. Prior to the move to the new store that was formerly the home of the Hunt company, Brown did business in a single room on Main street between Second and Third. Growth of his business and the future outlook of the firm necessitated larger quarters, and he is now occupying three stories and has made of the new location one of the finest and most modern in its equipment of any stores of its kind in the south-west.

The shoe department, the hat and shirt departments and women's hosiery are on the first floor. One of the most completely and adequately stocked boys' departments in the southwest is located on the second floor, together with men's furnishings. The third floor, not yet completed, is to be given over to women's ready to wear, one of the recently added departments of the Curtis Brown company. The firm carries Phoenix and Van Heale hosiery and underwear and specialties in Kuppenheimer clothes for men. Experienced clerks are employed on the Curtis Brown force, men and women who are capable of giving the benefit of expert advice in buying whenever it is needed.

The store has been completely remodeled, it has a new elevator, the finest of lighting fixtures and equipment, and show windows whose background required an expenditure of $2,500 each. On the second floor is a completely and attractively furnished women's rest room, with books and magazines for entertainment of those who are waiting for friends. The lounge room is open during store hours to all patrons of the store.

The formal opening tonight is something in the nature of a celebration of the remarkable expansion of the Curtis Brown company as well as an opening in itself. There will be orchestral music, flowers, souvenirs for the children and a welcome for everyone.

MONT REILY AGAIN
PUT UNDER FIREPorto Rican Senate Asks
His Removal as Governor of Island

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Efforts to bring about the removal of E. Mont Reily as governor of Porto Rico were renewed today, Antonio Barcelo, president of the Porto Rican senate, calling at the White House to protest against Reily's continuance in office.

Senator Barcelo declined to comment on his interview with President Harding, but expressed confidence that a satisfactory agreement of the Porto Rican situation would be worked out in the near future. Affairs on the island, particularly in reference to Governor Reily's administration, will be the subject of a White House conference next week, Senator Barcelo said, which Secretary Weeks, Mayor Traves of San Juan, Cordova Davila, Porto Rican commissioner here and Jose Benedito, former treasurer of Porto Rico, will attend.

Boy Jumps in Grave
To Rescue Pet Dog

CLIFFSIDE, N. J., Nov. 1.—Holding his pet dog, "Spoke," a fervid, 7-year-old, Tommy Hunsley was found today in the bottom of a newly-dug grave in the Cliffside cemetery after his parents had conducted a frantic search for him throughout the night. The boy had been in the grave for about eight hours and was almost exhausted from exposure. He had gone to the cemetery last night in search of "Spoke," who had disappeared.

The dog had fallen into the excavation and had injured his leg. Tommy jumped in to rescue him but then found he could not get out. Both dog and boy received medical attention.

Fashion's
forecast

A $25 Draped Dress for $8.

Subconsciously, unconsciously and consciously we, femininity, follow in the path of the fashion dictators. None are too strong, and none are too weak to withstand the call to arms. We wear our skirts short, sleeves short and chemise frocks that consisted of two side seams. Why? Because we wished to be in style. And now even the girls who said they'd never wear their skirts one inch longer than they were, are "letting them down."

The newest frocks for colder weather are, of course, longer (not long) many with long, fitted sleeves, which we all know are a great deal more comfortable in the winter time than the abbreviated ones. This style shown exhibits these features:

The shoe department, the hat and shirt departments and women's hosiery are on the first floor. One of the most completely and adequately stocked boys' departments in the southwest is located on the second floor, together with men's furnishings. The third floor, not yet completed, is to be given over to women's ready to wear, one of the recently added departments of the Curtis Brown company. ## LUNCHEON.

Cream of Corn—Short Bread

DINNER.

Fricandeau of Veal—Brown Sauce
Boiled Rice—Cream Cabbage
Lettuce Salad.

Peach Butter Pudding.

Cream of Corn Soup—Chop two cups canned corn very fine; add two cups milk; boil 20 minutes.

Scald one slice of onion with two cups milk; remove onion; add milk to corn; add one tablespoon of sugar.

Blend two tablespoons butter with two tablespoons flour and add enough of the first mixture (about one-half cup) to make of consistency to pour. Combine the two mixtures, add one teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon white pepper; stir thoroughly and keep hot in a double boiler.

Baked Bananas—Peel and slice six bananas in halves lengthwise. Place them in a buttered pudding dish and cook them in a hot oven 15 minutes. At the end of that time, lay thinly sliced bacon over the bananas and cook until the bacon is well cooked. This is good for a breakfast, luncheon or supper dish.

Short Bread—Sift four cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt and one tablespoon sugar together; then rub into them two-thirds cup shortening, using the tips of the fingers. Add gradually, while stirring with spatula or knife, sufficient milk to make a soft dough; then knead lightly until smooth; place in well greased tin, let stand 15 minutes and bake in hot oven 45 or 50 minutes. Can be eaten hot or cold.

Fricandeau of Veal—Select two pounds of veal from the rump (all in one piece). Put one sliced onion, two carrots, two sprigs of thyme and one bay leaf in bottom of saucapain, which has had two tablespoons of butter, oil or other fat melted in it; lay the veal on top of this; sprinkle well with salt and pepper and dredge with flour, and then cover with a layer of sliced onions and sliced carrots, and lay strips of bacon or fat pork on top. Cover and cook 45 minutes, then remove cover and brown. Watch carefully. When done, take out the meat and place it on a hot platter. To the liquid in saucapain, add two cups stock or boiling water and cook 15 minutes. Strain. A cup of canned peas or mushrooms may be added if desired. Pour over the veal and serve hot.

Greatest Weekly Freight Loading in Two Years Shown.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Indications of rapidly improving conditions in the country's general business life were given today in reports to the car service section of the American Railway Association which showed the greatest weekly loading of freight from which the railroads derived revenue in two years. The reports disclosed that, with the exception of four weeks in September and October 1920, the loading of 1,003,739 cars of revenue freight the week of October 21, was the greatest on record.

A record of 524,392 cars loaded with merchandise and miscellaneous freight which includes manufactured products also, was established during the week, the association reported. This was an increase of 7,234 cars over the week of September 20 when all previous high marks for that class of freight were broken. The loading of grain and grain products for the week, a total of 51,680 cars also showed substantial increases over the corresponding weeks of 1920 and last year.
